Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

There are plenty of things besides German bombs which "soften" people. M. Blum, who carried forward wide and fundamental reforms in France, succeeded in "softening" the French. When France should have been preparing to take Mr. Hitler seriously and arm adequately against the day when the Germans would come, M. Blum was busy reducing work hours, imposing added taxes and, if you like doing his best to hurry up the millenium. But instead of the second coming of Christ there came Mr. Hitler to make the French one of his subject races.

For over seven years we have had Mr. Roosevelt. Though at all times he was apprised of threatening war in Europe, and European wars always have had disastrous repercussions for this country, it was only five minutes ago, so to speak, that he has really warned this country of its deadly peril and started to arm us. Instead of arming us and thereby putting to work the nine or ten million "forgotten" men and women, he and his brain trust invented new syphons to the national treasury and indeed, to the national wealth. To all practical purposes he gave this vast unemployed army ready access to the syphons. He too was busy with reforms. Admitting that some of the reforms were overdue, such as old age pensions, unemployment insurance, and measures to protect labor from over greedy industrialists, it may be said in general that we got a tremendous dose of mixed medicine in such a hurry that we have been unable to digest it. It is as if a doctor, whose patient had a number of ailments threw the whole book of materia medica at him, prescribing purgatives, sedatives, astringents, belladona, quinine, digitalis, all in one huge dose, to be taken three times a day and just before retiring.

Now just when we had this superdose of reform and are still squirming with violent internal reactions, the White House notices that Mr. Hitler is coming. Just how soon he is coming, no one knows, because it is contingent on whether or not he can level England, and whether or not he can beat the famine which, according to many prognosticators, will visit him this winter. But at any rate Hitler is on his way, with a ticket providing for a stop-over in England. If the Englishmen don't get him, the famine may. But on the other hand, he may only pause a little while in England to acquire an Oxford accent. So the only prudent thing we can do is to get ready.

Despite the paralellism between the events leading up to the pitiful plight of France, and the situation in this country, which finds us practically unarmed except for half a navy, the United States still stands a good chance of being ready when the hour strikes. But one thing seems very necessary to all those who have given this matter serious thought: we should retire the President who has permitted us to drift into this situation, while "softening" the nation with many simultaneous reforms, and put a man on the job whose business training, and whose life experience fits him particularly to meet this real emergency. This third term proposal smacks too much of the very egotism that makes Hitler so repugnant to American ideals. The proposal, to be sure, is in entire accord with the President's steady accumulation of power. Were he to be re-elected, we feel certain that the time will come when Americans will remember him much as the Mexicans now remember Porfirio Diaz.

In France it was the Popular Front. In this country it has been the New Deal. France, to be sure, courted and petted its communists far more than we have done, and their numbers accordingly probably exceed those in the United States. It was communism in Germany which gave Hitler his chance. It was communism in Russia which brought Stalin to totalitarian power. Let us make no mistake at this coming election and elect a man for four more years, making a total term of twelve years, or, we too may find ourselves with a fascist in the White House.

Final Rites Held Today For Pioneer

Scores Attend Funeral For Late Mrs. Elizabeth Meservey

Scores of sorrowing friends and relatives gathered in the Holmes Funeral parlors here this morning to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth S. Meservey, 75, revered life long resident of this district.

The final rites were conducted by the Evangeline Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, of which the deceased was a past matron. Following the funeral the body was taken to Sacramento for cremation.

Mrs. Meservey died on Tuesday at the family home on Town Talk following a lengthy illness. The death ended a happy marriage union of 54 years duration. She and her husband, Eugene, celebrated their 50th wedding annivarsary in 1936.

Mrs. Meservey was born in Gold Flat of pioneer parents. Following her marriage to Eugene Meservey in 1886, she took an active interest in the Eastern Star and at one time was district deputy of the lodge.

The deceased leaves her husband, a brother, Joseph Stenger of Nevada City and four sisters, Emma Meservey, Mrs. Margaret Hallett, Mrs. Iva Williamson, all of Nevada City and Mrs. Addie Armstrong.

SLEIGH TIPS; SUIT RESULTS

Axel Johnson this week filed a suit for damages in the superior court here against the Sugar Bowl Corporation and Stanley Powell and Oscar Jones as a result of injuries sustained on February 17th when a tractor-pulled sleigh reportedly tipped over while transporting him and other passengers from the railroad station at Norden to the Sugar Bowl Ski Course.

Johnson claims in the suit the sleigh was handled carelessly, causing it to tip over. He asks $5000 general damages and $265 special damages alleging he suffered a severe back strain and nervous shock from the sleigh accident.

"Hope They Rot" Is Comment of Max On Masks

"I hope they rot in the truck!" That was the comment of Fire Engineer Max Solaro when three $200 inhalators arrived yesterday for the Nevada City Fire Department.

The purchase of the inhalators, which will enable firemen wearing them to remain in smoke and gas —or even under water—for one hour, was authorized by the city council after the Morgan and Powell Building fire, when three firemen suffered severely from the effects of gas and smoke. The inhalators will prevent similar future incidents.

Although the new equipment looks nice and probably would work nice, every one in Nevada City agrees with Max in the hope "they rot in the truck!" that they will never have to be used.

RECONSTRUCTION WILL START ON BOWMAN ROUTE

Work will start the latter part of this week on the reconstruction of the road between Bear Valley and Lake Bowman.

The job will be a Works Progress Administration project with a crew of approximately 40 men employed. Gerald E. Mitchell, engineer for the Tahoe National Forest, will supervise the work. Pete James transferred to the Tahoe from Los Padres forest will be the crew foreman.

The reconstruction of the route, which will open up a vast lake area for recreational purpose, was made possible through donations by various public and civic organizations in Placer and Nevada Counties.

It will be an $18,000 project, with the WPA supplying labor and materials amounting to $10,500; the Nevada Irrigation District $1,180; the forest service, $2,465; the Grass Valley Sportsmen's Club and the Grass Valley Rifle Rod and Gun Club $100 each and the Nevada County Board of Supervisors $1,000. Various other organizations also contributed to the road building project.

Jay Coughlan of Columbia Hill, county supervisor, was a visitor here yesterday.

Good Time Enjoyed By Children, Pioneer Park

About 65 young people of Nevada City are still talking about the fun and good time they had at the Recreation Dance last Friday night at Pioneer Park.

For three hours they danced and enjoyed themselves and tomorrow night a similar good time is promised as the fifth weekly dance is held.

Billy Tobiassen has challenged any one to a punch drinking contest. Director Ed Frantz of the recreation program said all those who are interested will be given a chance to dethrone the "champ."

The week's program at the park, Frantz announces, was full of activities. The Terrors journeyed to Grass Valley for a softball game. The Terrors is a team made up of boys between 9 and 14 years of age and is entered in the recreation league. The Terrors and the Flashes, the other team of Nevada City boys, will tangle soon to settle the championship of this city.

Next week's program will include first aid, tumbling and archery classes on Monday; arts and craft and dancing on Tuesday, nature study and model airplaning on Wednesday. A jamboree program is scheduled for Monday.

Director Frantz says there is something doing for every one at Pioneer Park—all you have to do is come out.

The nature study class is publishing a weekly newspaper entitled Nature Study News.

The first issue follows:

The meeting was called to order on July 10, 1940. There were 14 children attending the first meeting. We nominated Eleanor Tatman and Justus Kennedy for president; Bill Sharp and Bernardine Yuen for secretary. We shall vote on them at our next meeting.

We took a nature hike and saw fox-gloves, raspberry plants, ferns, maple trees, azalea, cedar and locust trees, Scotch Broom and hazelnut bushes.

We saw little fish in the creek, a black beetle and a yellow centipede under a rotten log.

Those attending the meeting were: Frank E. Yuen, Nikie Pello, Ernest Pello, Milo Pello, Billy Belisle, Bernardine Yuen, Burdette Risley, Eleanor Tatman, Fay Lystrup, Lillian Kensinger, Dicky Sharpe, Justus Kennedy, Bill Sharpe, Donnie Bartlett and Mrs. Flindt, supervisor.

BRUSH CLEARED AT CITY PARK

A crew of men is at work in Pioneer Park, cleaning the weeds and brush from the baseball diamond, around the lodge hall and swimming pool.

Approximately 10 are in the Works Progress Administration crew doing the work.

Among the street improvements projects underway is the eliminating of the sloping portion of the Downieville Highway by the R. J. Bennetts home. After work is completed there the widening of West Broad Street by the Catholic Cemetery will start.

The improving of Austin Street, which branches from the Downieville Highway, is nearly completed. The street was widened and otherwise improved.

WEAR HEARING HELD TODAY

Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse presided in the Grass Valley Justice Court today at the preliminary hearing of Robert Wear, 56, charged with murder in connection with the recent death of his brother, Jerry, 62.

The prosecution was conducted by District Attorney Vernon Stoll. Wear was not represented by council.

The complaint against Wear was signed by Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen, who said his investigation disclosed Jerry died from a fractured skull, reportedly suffered in a fight with his brother.

Sentencing Of Rancher Tomorrow

Jury Deliberates One Hour Before Rendering Verdict

William Cole, 62, found guilty here yesterday by a jury of seven women and five men of a charge of assault upon the person of another, a misdemeanor, will be sentenced at 10 a. m. tomorrow by Superior Judge George L. Jones.

Cole, Lime Kiln district farmer, was tried on the felony charge of assault with intent to commit murder. The jury returned the verdict on the lesser charge after deliberating one hour.

The felony complaint against Cole was signed by A. L. Rodda, nephew in law of the defendant. Rodda testified at the trial Cole shot him with a .22 caliber rifle during a dispute over the use of a gate on the Rodda property. Cole's niece, Mildred Cole Rodda, testified she heard a shot and when she rushed from her home she saw her husband lying on the ground.

Dr. Oscar Lang of Grass Valley and Dr. Harry Benteen disagreed on the cause of Rodda's injury. Dr. Lang, testifying for the prosecution, said he was positive Rodda's head injury was caused by a bullet. Dr. Benteen said from the type of the wound it apparently was caused by an instrument other than a gun. Dr. Benteen was a witness for the defense.

Cole in tesifying in his own behalf said he did not fire a shot at Rodda but admitted he struck his nephew in law with a shovel he was using for irrigating purposes.

The jury hearing the case follows: Charles Bosworth, C. E. Trueblood, Owen Samora, Lula E. Clapp, William J. Treglown, John P. Tognarelli, Viola J. Merrifield, Lola Carkeet, William L. Tamblyn, Jacobus H. deSmidt, Virginia Pease and Alice Brock.

DAMAGED ROADS TO BE REPAIRED

The Tahoe National Forest will have four flood relief camps, from where crews will work in repairing and rehabilitating roads in the forest area damaged by flood waters.

The first camp has been established in the Camptonville area and is called the Cherokee Camp. B. M. Brown, a transfer from the Sequia forest, will have charge of the Cherokee Camp with 15 men under him.

A similar camp has been established at Greek Store on the Foresthill Divide with A. J. Parker in charge. A total of $38,000 has been appropriated for flood repair work in the Tahoe forest.

LOCAL MINING ENGINEER AT WORK IN NEVADA

John Becker, owner of the Boundary Mine in Grass Valley and prominent mining engineer, is in Nevada state for the Newmont Mining Corporation. He is attending to engineering problems at the Grey Rock Mine, on which the Newmont has an option. A heavy flow of water has been given the mine considerable trouble. Becker resides at Town Talk.

Willkie Volunteers Lay Foundation For Local Organization

An enthusiastic meeting of Willkie supporters was held last evening, comfortably filling the banquet room of the National hotel, at which a broad foundation was laid for the first organization of a Willkie non-partisan group in Nevada County.

The purposes of the meeting as outlined by the temporary chairman, H. M. Leete, propose the organization on a non-partisan basis of all voters in Nevada City who feel that the election of Wendell L. Willkie to the Presidency this coming November is imperative if American democratic institutions are to be preserved.

Representatives of Grass Valley, Alleghany, Downieville, Town Talk, Penn Valley, and other districts outside Nevada City were present and participated in the discussion of the local group's relation to the formation of Willkie groups throughout the county. Speedy cooperation with all groups organized to support Willkie was pledged.

Myers Mobley acting as temporary secretary, "passed the hat" and collected funds for the immediate purchase of Willkie buttons for the insistent demand. It was remarked that never before in presidential campaigns has there been such a demand for buttons, windshield stickers, and banners as now evidenced among voters.

A preliminary statement regarding principles moving men and women in all walks of life and in all political parties to enroll under the Willkie standards, was made by the temporary chairman. It follows:

"This is a non-partisan meeting of people ready to volunteer their services to elect Wendell L. Willkie president of the United States. Those of us who have considered both the political and the economic situation today, feel that we have come to a fork in the road in our national life.

"Either the people will choose a leader in November who will restore our government to the people along with freedom of private enterprise, or they will continue the present course which has given the Federal government powers that already approach those of totalitarian governments.

"Step by step we have gone down the road toward totalitarianism, but now we have a leader who a great many public men in both parties believe can inspire the majority of Americans to repudiation, not of certain reforms, which most of us will concede were overdue, but of the gradual encroachment of government upon our everyday lives, and such suble, insidious doctrines of collectivism as have actually been placed in practice in the Tennessee Valley Authority. Along with this and allied to it has come the assumption by the government of what was once the personal responsibility of millions of people. It is difficult for any one to distinguish between what the Federal government has done in the name of humanity, and what it has done for the benefit of the party in power. But one thing is very certain under the guise of humanitarianism, there has been built up the greatest political machine in the history of this country.

"It is to defeat this machine, to take the government out of the hands of bureaucrats, and to restore the checks and balances the fathers wrote into the Constitution that all over this country thinking Americans without reference to party lines are rallying to support Wendell Willkie, candidate for the presidency, a man that many believe appears as providentially in this critical moment of our history, as did Lincoln in his time."

ROAD IMPROVING PROJECTS GIVEN COMMITTEE AID

H. F. (Si) Sofge, member of the state chamber of commerce highway committee, secured endorsement from the committee of three road improvement projects of interest to this district at a meeting in Chico on Tuesday.

The projects unanimously adopted by the committee are as follows:

No. 1. Completion of several miles of Tahie-Ukiah Highway through Bear Valley, which would eliminate present "bottlenecks" and other bad curves.

No. 2. Continued improvement of the Nevada City-Downieville highway.

No. 3. The making of a survey by the state highway commission to determine the feasibility of a four lane highway between Nevada City and Grass Valley, the two lanes each way to be entirely separate to avoid the dangerous traffic hazard of cutting in.

President Johnson of the Auburn Chamber of Commerce placed the improvement of the Auburn-Grass Valey-Nevada City route as No. 2 project on his list before the committee. The project received the committee's recommendation as did Johnson's No. 1 recommendation, the realignment of Highway 40 from Auburn to Colfax.

The committee received a communication from the Sierra County Board of Supervisors requesting an endorsement of its recommendation of a $500,000 appropriation for improving the Downieville Highway in Nevada County. The project was endorsed.

NEVADA CITYANS SEEK DAMAGES

An automobile accident near Floriston on July 22nd of last year is the basis for a damage suit filed this week in the superior court here.

Joseph Larghero and Myrtle Larghero, his wife, of Nevada City, seek $14,176 from G. B. Tibbetts and several John and Jane Does.

The suit sets forth the claim an automobile owned by Tibbetts and driven by an unnamed woman, crashed into the one driven by Henry Conti, resulting in injuries to Mr. and Mrs. Larghero, who were riding in the Conti automobile. The suit charges the driver of Tibbetts automobile was negligent.

Thomas O. McCraney represents the Largheros.

Defense Expenditures Interferes With Plan For Postoffice Bldg.

The national defense expenditures has temporarily interfered with plans for a new Nevada City postoffice building.

This is indicated in a communication from Congressman Harry L. Englebright to H. F. Sofge, chamber of commerce secretary.

Congressman Englebright wrote:

"At this session of Congress no appropriation was made for post office buildings and the entire program throughout the United States is in status quo. The large appropriation and expenditures for national defense and other purposes have caused all such activities such as public building programs to be set aside for the present."

ED FRANTZ EXTOLLS RECREATION PROGRAM

Ed Frantz, Pioneer Park summer program recreational director, spoke at the Rotary Club meeting here today. Frantz outlined the Nevada City Coordinating Council's work in entertaining and teaching the children during the idle summer months.

The Rotarians, who annually give a donation to the coordinating council for the summer recreation program, listened with interest to Frantz' story.

Roosevelt vs. Willkie

There has never been a presidential election like this one promises to be—and there will never be another one like it. For the issues on which it must be fought are at once so fundamental and so diametrically opposed that on November 5 the American people must choose between two roads as different from each other as night is from day; and from the road they choose there will be no turning back.

One road is pointed by the New Deal—with its eight-year record of experimentation and its steady movement toward governmental dominance of business, of social advances, of reforms, of labor, of capital—on to final solidification of American Democracy in a pattern of state paternalism.

The other road, strangely, is that of none of the political strategists. It is the road proposed by Wendell Willkie and the millions who spontaneously catapulted him into the Republican candidacy. His crusade is for a return of the control of private enterprise, large and small, to the people; for a return of governnment to the strict functions of government; for liberation of farmer, worker, craftsman, businessman and investor from tax-financed competition.

The champions, strong and sincere men, will fight it out in the political arena. And the people, silently watching and weighing, will decide, as always, their own fate.—Contributed

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder about elephants—
I think they call them pachaderms;
But surely they would look the same
If known by various other terms.
The donkey is a smaller beast,
But still, he has a name and place;
One trumpets and the other brays,
But which, oh which will win the race?

I wonder how the two major parties of America, came to choose their animated symbols. What line of reasoning led the republicans to select the lordly elephant—the democrats the lowly donkey. I know there are millions of people who know the answers; but I don't; so perhaps a bit of deduction may satisfy my curiosity.

Let's consider the elephant; he is a huge unlovely beast, with a thick, leathery hide, which serves him well, symbolically and otherwise. His eyes are too small for his massive countenance and his immense ears when flapped, are guaranteed to put insects to flight from stem to stern. He has awe inspiring ivory tusks and a Cyrano proboscis with which he can reach out and, "claim everything."

The elephant is a versatile animal; he can lead an imperial parade bearing a bejeweled rajah upon his back, or march placidly down Main Street with a monkey cavorting upon his upper deck. He can pile teak logs in the squdgy mud beside the Road to Mandalay, or stand grotesquely upon his head in a circus ring; pomp and circumstance inspire him to majestic movement while a child's gift of peanuts may cause his little eyes to twinkle and his great bulk to sway from side to side in evident appreciation.

Judged by the reports sent in by the seven blind men who examined a member of the elephant tribe, it might be inferred that he is all things to all men; but this can't be true, for the elephant has convictions of his own, often displays unwavering loyalty and has, so it said, an amazing gift of memory. Yes, the elephant is a canny beast, a useful and a showy one; that may be why the republicans chose the Great Old Pachaderm to symbolize the Grand Old Party.

The donkey is a humble little creature, but his humility does not in the least resemble that of Uriah Heep's; he is prone to take a stand, logical or quite the contrary, and maintain it against all comers.

The donkey like the elephant, is unbeautiful; he is a burden bearer, a pioneer, one might almost say, an empire builder; his hoofs have marked every adventurous trail, of this, our Golden West; he has met trials, disaster or success and lifted his cacophonious voice in derision of all three. With great ears erect and pointed aggressively forward, he lends his back to the heaviest load; but, if you elect to ride instead of pack him, wherever you sit is sure to be the highest place.

This useful beast has had no sagas written in his honor. I do however, remember this bit of doggerel.

"The donkey hath two feet behind,
He hath two feet before,
You stand behind before you find,
What the two behind be for."

After examining these few facts concerning the elephant and the donkey, I realize that they are worthy symbols or mascots. The republicans and democrats certainly do know their animals. —A. MERRIAM CONNER.

TO THE RESCUE

Hitler's coming to the present occupant of the White House is just another "emergency." During his seven and a half years in the Presidency, a very large part of all legislation has been for emergencies. But there is a big difference in kinds of emergencies. Hitlerism, has grown to be a real emergency. The emergencies that have led to vast tomes of reform legislation, our forefather's would never have regarded as such. In all past panics the people buckled down and pulled the cart out of the mud with very little help from the government. Now government does it with a press gang of tax gatherers. The magic word "emergency" has been used as a wrapping for a mass of ill-digested legislation, which plagues and "coftens" us internally, just when Mr. Hitler approaches with a bomb in each hand to soften our externa teguments.

OLSON RECALL NOW LOOMS AS PROBABILITY

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—A complete checkup by the Olson Recall Committee here reveals that a total of 331,700 Californians have signed the petitions calling for an election on the recall of Governor Olson.

Filings in Orange, Riverside, Santa Clara, San Francisco, Alameda, San Diego, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Fresno and Contra Costa Counties brought the original total to 70,000 signatures.

Since that time 255,000 names have been presented in Los Angeles County and a supplemental list of 6,700 has been secured in San Francisco accounting for the 331,700 total.

According to the directors of the recall movement, there is always a percentage of names which on account of illegibility, incorrect addresses or other technical reasons prove invalid.

In order to secure the 318,247 verified signatures, required by the Constitution to bring about a recall election, the petition campaign is being carried on with renewed vigor in the more populous areas of the state.

Once the necessary total is obtained, notice is given the Lieutenant Governor by the Secretary of State. The former must then call an election within not less than 60 or more than 80 days. This is the only part played by the Lieutenant Governor in the recall machinery.

Recall ballots ask the question: "Shall the governor be recalled?" Following is printed a list of candidates with no partisan designation. If a majority of votes are cast in favor of the recall, then the candidate receiving the highest number of votes immediately named to fill the unexpired term of the chief executive.

Members of the recall committee today re-emphasized that they are taking no stand in the matter of candidates—that they believe there is a wealth of capable men who can bring an end to the "wasteful, extravagant, inefficient and communistically inclined administration of Governor Olson."

"The recent Olson fiasco in which Olson demanded the resignation of his Lieutenant Governor, who was elected with him at the same time and on the same ticket, in order that he might further his own fancied ambitions to be named a vice-presidential candidate is but another indication of Olson's "dictator complex" and is a direct insult to the people who elected them both," recall directors say.

TRAIL FINDERS WILL MARK ROAD EMIGRANTS USED

On Sunday, July 28, a party of trail riders co-sponsored by the Auburn Native Sons of the Golden West, and the United States Forest Service, will ride the 22 mile section of the old Overland Emigrant Road from the lower end of Bear Valley to Steep Hollow, and thoroughly sign the route followed by the old road over which 10,000 wagons passed in 1849.

W. A. Levee, a pioneer of Liberty Hill, Nevada County, will guide the party. Mr. Levee, himself a son of one of the original Argonauts, has lived all his life along this section of the old Overland Trail, and is almost the only man alive today able to guide a party with positive knowledge, to the identifying marks left by the emigrant wagon trains during and preceding the gold rush.

The trail making party guided by Levee, will be mounted on horses and will gather at the lower end of Bear Valley, where John Markle in his diary of August 1849, said the emigrants "encamped and mowed grass" required by their stock in the timbered hills ahead.

Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of the Tahoe National Forest, will lead the forest service party, consisting of Russ Daigle of the San Francisco regional office; Leland Smith, Nevada City; John Hodgson, Big Bend, and R. L. Lewis of North Bloomfield. Wendell Robie and K. D. Robinson are handling arrangements for a party of Native Sons and historians from Auburn and the bay district; with R. L Bigelow, who led a similar expedition in 1934 to mark the upper section of the road from Donner Lake to Bear Valley, making similar preparations for those who wish to ride with the party from Nevada City.

Special features of the old trail to be viewed, include the Emigrant Crossing of Bear River, the road over Nigger Jack; the Mother Pine, noted in emigrant accounts as the largest pine tree known to the pioneers; the Mule Springs a famous camping and watering place, the Camel Humps, the Steep Hollow, as named from Edwin Bryant's account of the trip of his party, which just preceded the Donner Party, and whose diary entry of August 28, 1849, stated his party "descended so steep for a mile and a half that we named the ravine Steep Hollow." When Markle descended the same place three years later, he noted in his diary that they had to tie trees to the wagon to hold back in addition to locked wheels.

All persons interested in making the trip, and who supply their own horses and lunch are invited to join the party, and to communicate to John Hodgson, Big Bend ranger station, or Wendell Robie, Auburn. The start on Sunday, the 28th, from Bear Valley, will be at 7 a. m. and a noon stop for lunch will be made at the Mule Springs meadow. William Patrick of Lake Vera, Nevada City, is arranging for the horse transport required by members of the party with out horses of their own.

Later, it is expected the Native Sons will sponsor additional marking of the old trail from Steep Hollow to Camp Far West and Johnson's Ranch near the lower end of Bear River in the Sacramento Valley, where the old road turned south for the final link to Sutter's Fort.

STATE FUND FOR NEVADA CO. FIRE FIGHTING, $21000

SACRAMENTO, July 25.—(UP)—The state personnel board today announced that the 32 counties cooperating with the state in suppressing and preventing forest fires had been reclassified according to the total expenditure of fire funds during the fiscal year 1939-40 ending June 30

State forest rangers will now be known as grade 1, in counties with an expenditure of under $30,000; grade 2, between $30,000 and $150,000, and grade 3, above $150,000, which includes only Kern county.

The state will continue to pay the rangers from $160 to $200 monthly, but counties may supplement this for a total of $200 to $260 in grade 2 and $300 to $380 in Class 3. Class 1 remains the same.

Nevada county is in grade 1 with a total state and county expenditure of $21,000 for 1939-40.

THOUSANDS OF TROUT PLANTED IN STREAMS

Four members of the California fish and game patrol, under the direction f M. C. Talbott, are completing the planting of thousands of trout in the steams and lakes of Nevada and Placer Counties.

Talbott said the fry are nearly twice as large as the usual planting, averaging more than three inches in length. The trout are from the Mt. Shasta Hatchery and are being kept at the Bear River planting base in Bear Valley.

New and improved methods of handling the trout, Talbott said, is resulting in a very small loss between the hatchery and the lakes and streams.

These plantings will be augmented at a later date by thousands from the Tahoe and Tallac Hatcheries at Lake Tahoe and 150,000 rainbow will be raised in the San Francisco Flyrasting Club's tanks near Truckee and planted late in the fall.

COUNTY AID FOR 468 AGED FOLKS

The number of Old Age Security recipients in California grew to 141,792 during June 1940, according to a statement today by Martha A. Chickering, director of the State Department of Social Welfare. $5,381,704.57 of public funds were disbursed to these recipients during June, representing an average payment of $37.95 per month.

The 468 recipients of aged aid in Nevada County received a total of $18,444.24, thus giving them an average of $39.41 per month.

California's aid to the needy aged payments are still the highest in the nation. Payments in other states range from an average of $6.05 a month to $28.59 a month.

U. S. GRANT OF $21,000 FOR CALIFORNIA GAME

SACRAMENTO, July 25.—(UP)—California has received a $60,515 grant for projects to improve game conditions in the state.

The allocation is from a $2,300,000 fund apportioned to the various states under the federal wildlife restoration act, according to an announcement by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes

The state is required to contribute an additional 25 per cent of the allotment.

TRAIL MARKING PARTICIPANTS

Several Nevada Cityans will be in the party of horsemen marking the Emigrant-Donner trail from Steep Hollow near Chicago Park to Bear Valley on Sunday.

Local men to participate in the marking of the trail will be Supervisor Guerdon Ellis of the Tahoe National Forest, Former Supervisor R. L. Bigelow, Associate Forester L. S. Smith and Ranger Anselmo Lewis. The party will also include Ranger John Hodgson from Big Dend and Russ Daigle of the regional forestry office in San Francisco.

PAROLE SYSTEM FOR CONVICTS TO BE EXPANDED

SACRAMENTO, July 25.—(UP)—Expansion of the system of parole and extramural care of patients in the state's seven mental hospitals has been largely responsible for savings of $878,723 in the biennial budget for the department of institutions, Dr. Aaron J. Rosanoff, director of the department, revealed today.

The financial saving has come about through a reduction in institution population—made despite an increase in admissions. The director said the average yearly increase in population for the last ten years has been 309, but during the last fiscal year there was a net reduction of 129.

As of June 30 there were 4247 inmates on parole, as compared with 2976 on January 31, 1939, before the new policy was inaugurated.

Dr. Rosanoff added that the reduction in population is even more impressive considering that the mortality rate for the institutions has shown a substantial drop under the new administration. The number of deaths from February, 1937 through April, 1938, was 2193, while for a similar 15 month period in 1939 and 1940 there were only 1842 deaths.

Improved diagnosis, better diet and segregation of tuberculosis cases in the institutions were listed by the director among reasons for the lower death rate.

Of the department's savings, $780,000 has been allocated to pay retractive salary increases to 3400 employes of the department who were entitled to raises during the past year under terms of the state civil service act. Salary adjustment funds were deleted from the state budget by the 1939 legislature and have been granted only in cases where departments were able to show operating economies.

Another $35,000 was set aside to begin operation of a new inebriate colony at Spadra, expected to be ready by the first of next year. The colony will be operated in conjunction with the present state narcotic hosptial.

TRUCK WHEEL CRASHES HOME

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (U.P.)—When Mr. and Mrs. J. A. C. Nielson returned to their home here after a shopping trip they found on the dining room table—a 100 pound truck wheel. Investigating deputies said the wheel apparently was part of a dual set of a truck that had passed the Nielson home. The wheel became separated from the truck axle, hurtled a gully, crashed through a wire fence, bounced into the air through the Nielson window and crashed onto a table.

ENGINEER HOME FROM MINES IN SOUTH AFRICA

Mr. and Mrs. William Lane of Nevada City, who spent three years in Nababbet, South Africa, for the Newmont Mining Corporation, have arrived here to make their future home.

The couple, parents of Dick Lane, Ethel McClish and Melba Crase of Nevada City and Elizabeth Hoskins and L. E. Lane of Grass Valley are living with their children while preparations are being made for them to move into their own home here.

The arrival of the couple was a surprise to the children as they had expected their parents to make an extended tour of the country before returning home. Many newspaper accounts were given of the Lane's experience in South Africa and the trip to New York City by New York and other newspapers.

The first comment of the couple when they landed in New York aboard a freighter was:

"It feels pretty wonderful to be in America once more after living in darkest Africa for so long and being delayed for four weeks trying to get a boat home."

Lane a mining and construction engineer, was connected with the Newmont Mining Corporation in this region before he was sent to South Africa.

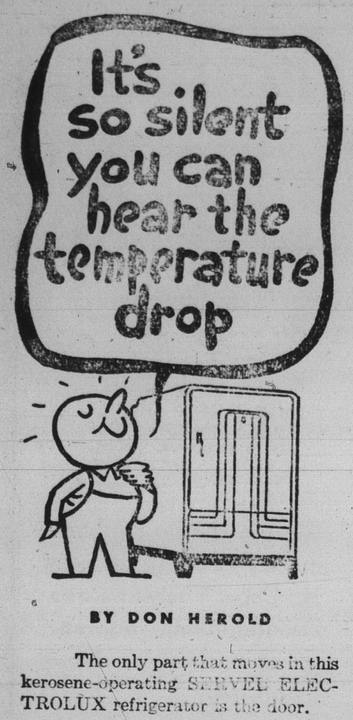
Here on Business—

Russell Farley, inspector for the state board of equalization and former resident of this city, was here on business Tuesday.



BY DON HEROLD

The only part that moves in this kerosene-operating SERVEL ELECTROLUX refrigerator is the door.

There's no machinery in its innards to buzz and grind and wear out. No mechanical trouble. No repair expense.

And darned little other expense!

Five gallons of ordinary kerosene will run this baby until the cows come home. You light a safe, little flame and forget it for days.

This little flame keeps a special, harmless refrigerant in constant circulation. That's the whole story.

It's not new. It's no mere theory. Thousands of farmers have for years found this box the answer to their refrigeration problems. No electricity or running water necessary. Just common grocery store kerosene.

This kerosene-operating SERVEL ELECTROLUX is country cousin to 1,000,000 gas-operating city SERVELS. It gives the same smooth refrigeration, the same litters of sparkling ice cubes, the same food-saving economies, the same delicious cold desserts.

Ask to see the testimonials written by satisfied farmers everywhere.

Country Club Entertains

Members of the Gold Flat Country Club and their friends enjoyed a full day's activities Sunday at the Mr. and Mrs. John Deschwanden home in Gold Flat.

A barbecue was served at noon and a supper at 6 o'clock. The tables were set under the trees, providing a beautiful setting.

During the afternoon games of all sorts were played and swimming was enjoyed by some of the guests. The events were interspersed with musical selections by Mrs. C. E. Bosworth and Mrs. Goodnight. A dance was held in the evening.

Approximately 100 were present at the affair. The host and hostess were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Deschwanden and Mr. and Mrs. Odell Hamilton.

BIG CROWDS AT CLARK'S GREATER SHOWS IN G. V.

Clark's Greater Shows are drawing big crowds in Grass Valley. This great motorized caravan of attractions, located in the rear of the Memorial building on Auburn street, has long been a favorite with Nevada County youngsters and grown-ups.

There are eight rides each with its own individual thrill for the kiddies and their parents. There are also eight big side shows that either uproariously funny or deeply interesting. And each evening there is one big free act when Capt. (Suicide) Sondenberg, world's champion, diver, takes off from his high diving tower in what looks like a leap of death.

WILLKIE THEME SONG

Heigh-ho, Heigh-ho,
It's back to work we go;
With Wendell Willkie leading us
The jobs will grow.
Heigh-ho, heigh-ho, heigho-ho,
We've all been feeling low,
But Willkie's hand will save the land,
Heigh-ho, heigh-ho.

Heigh-ho, heigh-ho.
It's back to work we go;
With Willkie's plan the New Deal sham
Will have to go.
Heigh-ho, heigh-ho, heigh-ho,
The fact we want to know;
We have no fear, he'll make things clear,
Heigh-ho, heigh-ho.

Heigh-ho, heigh-ho,
It's back to work we go;
With confidence restored again
Defense will grow.
Heigho-ho, heigho-ho, heigh-ho,
We've all been worried so;
But Willkie's fight will us unite,
Heigh-ho, heigh-ho.

Heigh-ho, heigh-ho.
It's back to work we go;
The people's voice expressed their choice,
The vote will show.
Heigh-ho, heigh-ho, heigh-ho,
We want the world to know;
That Wendell Willkie is the man
We want. Heigh-ho!
